German Bonds Worthless But Give Tax Break

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Holders of several hundred million dollars worth of German international bonds are assured yesterday that the United States government considers them worthless. This is not entirely bad news, because if the government would not recognize the worthlessness, holders could not deduct the loss in figuring income taxes.

15 Seamen Die As Ship Sinks Off B.C. Coast

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21.—(CP)—Fifteen British Columbia seamen perished when the coastal freighter Northholm was sunk in a wild Pacific storm off the coast of British Columbia, according to a dispatch, fendering to quickly that nine of them "went down with the ship."

Of the eight who escaped in a lifeboat, only two survived, as announced yesterday by Union Steamships Ltd. The 16-foot vessel, a veteran of countless coastal storms, was registered in the name of the company's subsidiary, the Waterhouse and Company of Canada Ltd.

But three of the crew came from Vancouver.

KNOWN DEAD—David B. King, chief engineer; Arthur Ordway, quartermaster; of Kimberley, B.C.; E. J. McLean, quartermaster; New Westminster, B.C.; Nick Sergie, able seaman.

MISSING, BELIEVED DEAD—Alan Findlay, second officer; Allen McLean, second engineer; Nelson Macrae, third engineer; Arthur Gee, quartermaster; Frank McMillan, master; George Nordstrom, able seaman; Quatlen Macmillan, able seaman; Henry Sergie, fireman; D. Robinson, fireman; R. Armstrong, seaman; Wong Chee, cook.

The company said that washing broadside seas sweeping in from the Pacific as the vessel rounded the northwestern extremity of Vancouver Island were responsible for the loss of the sturdy little freighter. She apparently was running for the shelter of an island when swamped and sank.

Two of the eight men who got away in the lifeboat were swept overboard. Four others were rescued when found by rescuers.

TWO SURVIVORS—The two survivors were Ray Perry, chief officer, and A. Henry Robertson. They had been on the ship since 1934. Perry is 34, and Robertson is 31. Both are from Vancouver.

After being rescued, the two survivors were taken to the northwest coast of the island, along with the two other survivors—King, Ordway, and Minard.

Nick Sergie, second officer, was using for the other bodies.

The Northholm had been en route from Seattle to Vancouver when it was wrecked, according to reports received on Saturday.

It was the worst marine disaster on the British Columbia coast in many years.

Aid Russia Sunday—On January 24th

Head of leading religious denominations in Canada have designated Sunday, Jan. 24, to be observed as "Aid to Russia Sunday."

J. S. McLean, secretary of the national committee of the Canadian Aid to Russia Fund, announced yesterday.

Practical letters have been sent to several thousand clergymen across Canada asking them to call the attention of their congregation to the needs of the Russian people.

"Retirement" of Hitler Offered in Peace Plan

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Joseph E. Davies, former United States Ambassador to Russia, disclosed yesterday that in 1940 he was approached by Nazi spokesmen at a conference suggested by "certain well-meaning" persons, but that he was not to be signed by German military or other government officials and under which Hitler would be "retired."

"It made it clear to these gentlemen that, in my opinion, it was an impossible peace," said Davies in a news conference.

Davies said he attended the conference at the request of "certain important civil and business leaders in this country," whom he said he knew intimately.

He said the plan was to be used by Hitler to further his plan to conquer the world and other.

AUTHORIZED TO ACT—He said that at the meeting, held in New York, the Nazi spokesman "stated that they were authorized by Hitler to say that they would make a peace which would be agreeable to any reasonable domestic and foreign-minded men would require."

"In order to make it possible for England to make a peace with Hitler, it was necessary that the peace be made by a man who was not a Hitler government official," Davies said.

He said the plan was to be used by Hitler to further his plan to conquer the world and other.

THEY MEAN BUSINESS—The soldier looks businesslike always. When he goes to work, he is on the way to the rear he keeps his finger on his rifle trigger. It is a sign of alertness and readiness. They show that they know it.

I sat in the candle-lit room of a Conakast station near the Don. We were talking to five crack young recruits just back from a long expedition into the enemy lines. They had been in the front line for several days, and they were tired, but they were not discouraged.

THE TRUE SANDWICH

You're really not eating a sandwich unless it consists of two slices of bread and butter with a slice of ham or other meat between them. It's only spread bread otherwise. The word originally meant only salt and butter spread on bread, but dictionaries have made this distinction since the latter part of the 19th century.

Medic Charges Over Crowding Increases Diseases

Communicable Ailments More Difficult to Curb In Congested Quarters

Over-crowding of living quarters with an increased movement of population to the city in connection with war work has made all communicable diseases more difficult to control, according to Dr. G. M. Little, city medical officer of health. Therefore, he stated, it was of even greater importance that parents should see that their children are given the available prevention for such serious diseases as diphtheria. His statements were made in a report to the city commissioners Thursday of the death from diphtheria of an eight-year-old girl.

Makes Appeal

This girl, Dr. Little stated, apparently contracted the disease while on a New Year's visit to friends in the country and had never been given the protective inoculations against the disease. "Protection against diphtheria may be obtained any time from the family physician; it is given free each year by the public and separate school boards and every week-end of the year in the board of health offices at the Civic block," said Dr. Little.

NEWSPAPERS HELP
"Newspapers have done much to educate our people to the facilities for protecting their children, and so many citizens have responded that the devastating epidemics of this infection which occurred in the early part of this century are no longer possible, but it is our responsibility that we should see that the disease does not occur from this cause because a parent did not know of the simple and safe protection which is freely available to all."

Dr. G. M. Little, city medical officer of health, who appealed on Thursday to parents to avail themselves of communicable diseases preventive measures as insurance of their children's health.

SEVEN CASES AND ONE CARCINOMA
In 1942, Dr. Little stated, there were seven cases of diphtheria and one carcinoma of the larynx reported, against 138 in 1941. The last peak year in this disease, Dr. Little said, was in 1937 when 168 cases were reported.

CHIEF FACTOR
He said that one of the chief factors in the spread of this disease is the lack of adequate ventilation in living quarters, with increased movement of population make all communicable diseases more difficult to control.

During 1942 there were 312 cases of scarlet fever reported, against 138 in 1941. The last peak year in this disease, Dr. Little said, was in 1937 when 168 cases were reported.

Not so long ago the idea was prevalent that the rear gunner in a bombing plane was a one-man suicide unit. The young chaps joining the air force who became "tail-end Charlies" were recipients of many sympathetic shakes of the head from their friends.

Actually this notion about the extreme vulnerability of the rear gunner always was greatly exaggerated and with the latest type of planes the man at the tail end is probably safer than any member of the crew.

But in case some folks still suffer from a hangover about the alleged hazards of rear gunning on an airplane, a short piece in the current issue of Science Digest, that we quote below, set them right.

New Licenses

Transportation difficulties created by the severe cold have been primary causes of delay in house-to-house mail deliveries in the city, postal officials announced Thursday.

In the last several days trains have been arriving in Edmonton from two to 12 hours behind schedule with the result that much of the mail has not reached the homes on time. Several trains have been delayed for more than 12 hours and one train from the west came in 29 hours late, officials stated.

With only one house delivery a day now in effect, officials explain that the delays in train service have resulted in late mail.

If a train arrives too late to include its mail in the morning delivery that mail must wait until the next morning, an official stated. In the cases of trains being 12 and more hours late, the delivery may not be made until after the scheduled time.

SEVERE TESTS
Publicity has been laboring under severe handicaps as well, he stated. Many have suffered frost bite to fingers, noses, ears and hands and have been forced to remain home. Replacements are practically impossible with the result that many homes have been without delivery of the mail service vehicles, including commercial trucks used in, during the same period.

Motor truck licenses issued in Alberta up to the end of the year to 1942, an increase of 2,500 over 1941.

A $300,000 increase in revenue from certificate fees of trucks and trailers is estimated, with probably $300,000 being collected in the present fiscal year.

Motor truck licensing is under review of the provincial highway traffic board, with G. H. N. Monkman, deputy minister of public works, chairman, N. W. Macpherson, commissioner of highways, and W. T. Aiken, chairman of the board, which Mr. Aiken is secretary.

LICENSES IN MARCH
It is planned to issue truck licenses as early as possible in March, for the new license year 1943. The first day of the new year, March 15, states Mr. Aiken.

The provincial secretary's special permits have passenger automobile licenses, and also new gasoline licenses, before April 1.

1943 license plates will be orange, with black numerals. Trucks will be issued with only one plate, to be attached to the rear of the vehicle.

Flax Production Reveals Increase
A large increase in flax production can be expected in Alberta in 1943, according to the provincial secretary of agriculture, stated Thursday.

The last year flax acreage averaged $2,000 acres, when an average of $2,000 acres was harvested. An exceptional yield to the acre more than doubled 1942 crop. Average yield was 12 bushels per acre, as in 1941, 7.3 bushels was the average.

The war has increased the demand for flax growing, and although there are definite limitations on the amount which can be used, the 1942 crop was well taken care of, Mr. Longman stated. He added there was a possibility of a surplus crop, if farmers substituted flax too extensively for wheat.

Edmonton Officer Promoted Overseas
Capt. Leonard F. Davis of Edmonton, and Capt. Ronald B. MacDonald and Lt. W. H. Wyland, both of Calgary, who are all serving overseas with the Canadian army, have been promoted. It was announced Thursday at military headquarters in Calgary.

Short Course Is Cancelled Due to Storm

With the southern portion of the province in the grip of a terrific blizzard that blocked highways and country roads, annual short course for farmers, sponsored jointly by the Alberta department of agriculture and the Calgary Board of Trade, scheduled for this week, was cancelled.

O. Longman, deputy minister of agriculture and forestry, said that the short course at Lethbridge under the combined sponsorship of the South Alberta Federated Associations and the department of agriculture, was cancelled.

WARTIME DRIVE
Farmers were urged to utilize these products for stock feed as part of the general wartime drive to increase the production of live stock.

Problems relating to breeding of livestock and the serious lack of hay, were also discussed.

"Inedent Social Credit," Says Reynolds
Location of the seat to be occupied by G. A. Reynolds, M.A., in the Alberta legislature that opens on Feb. 18, has been announced. It was learned Thursday.

The member for Stettler, who has been elected to the legislature, will be seated in the front of the house, following a break with the government on policy with his view.

Mr. Reynolds has stated that he still adheres to the principles of Social Credit while disagreeing with certain aspects of the program. He therefore wishes to be listed as an Independent Social Credit.

Rural Areas Feel Shortage of Coal
Reports of cities, towns and villages throughout the province, are feeling real hardship due to the fuel shortage, hardly due to be heard.

At Red Deer, where the fuel shortage is most acute, it is reported that many families are burning wood for heat, and are thinking in order to keep warm.

There was a shortage of coal in the area, and a certain district of the province has been able to release several cars of coal to the area.

Edmonton Fusiliers Give Comprehensive Training For Defence of Home

"Tonight is no night for man or beast," muttered this shivering warrior, as he streaked the one block's distance from Jasper Avenue to Victoria Armoury, to give the 2nd (Regiment) Battalion Edmonton Fusiliers the once-over at their regular semi-weekly parade. The unit is in the midst of a recruiting drive to add 600 men to its strength.

Even though they do wear wind-proof greatcoats and winter caps, when any group of khaki-clad men brave 40 below temperatures to attend a parade, they certainly must be enthusiastic about their army training.

Yet, once in the warmth of the parade ground, and in the comfort of McKay Avenue school, one could easily believe that the recruits are not in the midst of a parade, but in the midst of a training session.

Miss Bailey Is Married At Alcomdale

The Rev. A. Tate Young solemnized a marriage which took place Friday in the Independent United church at Alcomdale, when Mildred second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Bailey, became the bride of Mr. Charles M. Whitson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley L. Whitson, all of Alcomdale. Military music formed the decorations in the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an afternoon-length frock of gold crepe with dark brown accessories and a shoulder corsage of sweet peas and white lilies of the valley. Her only piece of jewelry was a gold pin with an R.C.A.F. crest. Gift of the bridegroom.

A Miss Mitchell supplied the wedding music.

Reception to immediate relatives and close friends was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony.

After a brief honeymoon, the groom will resume his duties at an eastern Canadian station.

British Queen Sends Thanks To Canadians

TORONTO, Jan. 21.—Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth, writing to Mrs. G. Grenfell, patron of the British W.C.A., has asked her to convey to Canadian women workers for their generous response to the needs of British service women.

Marion Hyde, lady-inwaiting to Her Majesty, writing from Buckingham Palace, said:

"The Queen commands me to say with what pleasure her Majesty has read your letter giving the result of the appeal you started in Canada a year ago for the wartime needs of women in the services here in Great Britain."

DEEPLY TOUCHED

The list of donations you enclosed from individuals and from clubs and towns in all parts of the Dominion, of which the Queen has heard, and which she has so graciously accepted, has touched her deeply, and Her Majesty's gratitude for your generous response to the needs of British service women is profound.

The Queen, as patron of the W.C.A., knows at first-hand both these needs, and the help which the association is making to meet them, and Her Majesty's appreciation is, therefore, all the more heartfelt."

The funds mentioned were raised through Mrs. Winston Churchill's fund for British Service Women, Canadian W.C.A., and others have now contributed over $25,000 to this fund.

Splicing Job Neat as Jig-Saw Puzzle

Bow of One Destroyer Grafted Onto Sister Ship

The accent is on fitness in the Women's Division of the Royal Canadian Air Force, and this attractive clock formation shows some of the girls whose job is to keep airwomen throughout Canada in top physical trim. At No. 6 Manning Depot in Toronto, they take an instructor's course in physical education, designed by Section Officer R. I. S. Jernholm, a graduate of the Danish physical culture system. Gone are the days of "physical jerks"; smoothness of motion and progressive co-ordination keynote the modern program of streamlined P. T. which the girls in this picture will be giving their sister airwomen. Starting at "six o'clock" and reading clockwise, they are Mary Crew of Barrie, Ont.; Margaret Chase, Aylmer, Ont.; Helen Brooks, Vancouver; Grace Nichol, Manville, Alta.; Betty Tomkins, Port Credit, Ont.; Maureen Martin, West Vancouver; H. A. Ruthford, Edmonton; Maryon Weiss, Winnipeg; Violet Peck, Edmonton, and Ethel McCully, Medicine Hat, Alta.

Workers Perform Successful "Operation" Puts Warship Back Into Active Service

Navy men proved their ships can take plenty of battering and still go back into the fight when the U.S. destroyer Blakeley had its bow blown off by a torpedo in the Caribbean. It limped to port and returned to the Philadelphia Navy Yard where the bow from a sister vessel, the old U.S.S. Taylor, was grafted to the Blakeley.

Neat as a jig-saw puzzle was the splicing of the damaged destroyer Blakeley to the bow cut from her decommissioned sister ship, the Taylor. Both vessels were of the four-stacker type built during World War I. Fully repaired, the Blakeley is now back in action hunting U-boats like one that torpedoed her.
